February 12, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. at Federal City.

The free family-oriented celebration promotes cultural diversity while bringing Mardi Gras to the historic Algiers neighborhood. This year's festival poster, deigned by NOCCA student Kylie Fisher, features a Mississippi River steamboat, Mardi Gras doubloons and beads.

The festival will kickoff with a parade on L.B. Landry featuring local school bands and the Mohawk Hunters Mardi Gras Indian Tribe of Algiers. The festival will also proudly honor our military including the Marines at the Marine Corps Support Facility and the Coast Guard personnel at the Guard Sector New Orleans Headquarters at Federal City.

The 2022 entertainment lineup will include the US Marine Corp Reserve Band, Kermit Ruffins, New Orleans Nightcrawlers, Tonya Boyd-Canyon and Brass-A-Holics.

UnitedHealthcare and the New Orleans Saints Teamed Up to Unveil New Youth Fitness Zone at Harriet Tubman Charter School

UnitedHealthcare and the New Orleans Saints surprised students at the Harriet Tubman Charter School with the unveiling of a new "Get Fit" Youth Fitness Zone on Thursday, February 3.

Saints players Will Clap (C), Payton Turner (DE) and Nick Vannett (TE) as well as Sir Saint, the Saints Cheer Krewe and UnitedHealthcare volunteers were on hand to run drills and demonstrate the new fitness equipment. Sponsored by UnitedHealthcare, this "Get Fit" Zone is designed as part of the NFL's PLAY 60 initiative which encourages kids to exercise for at least 60 minutes a day.
